LOCAL AND OTHER NOTES.

—Messrs. Brouger & Browne advertise seed rice, amber and orange cane seed.

—Thad. Potter has Swiss Bells and Music for sale. See his advertisement.

—A Hoe Railway Cylinder printing press is offered for sale at a bargain. See advertisement.

—Circuit Court for the Second District of Hinds county will begin on Monday, the 6th day of February.

—Messrs. S. Lemly & Son announce to-day some reasonable specialties in their line, to which attention is called.

—We are indebted to Mr. S. H. Stackhouse, Secretary of the Horticultural Convention, for his kind attentions.

—Our worthy citizen, Mr. Frank Fletcher, has been an officer of the penitentiary for nearly thirty years. He deserves a pension for faithful service.

—Col. Nugent offers a reward for the return of his fine horse, stolen on night of 5th inst.; also a reward for the apprehension and conviction of the thief.

—Quite a number of cases of sickness, much above the average for this time of year, are reported—such as fevers, colds, etc., caused by the recent changeable weather.

—A mad dog was killed in south Jackson a few days since. We have not heard whether any other dogs were bitten by him, but it behoves our citizens to be on the lookout.

—Rev. Dr. Tucker, rector of St. Andrew's church in this city, has received a flattering invitation to Mobile, and has the matter of its acceptance under consideration.

—Miss Jennie Grafton, a daughter of our distinguished confederate of the Natchez Democrat, and Miss Forbes, another popular Natchez belle, are visiting relatives in Hinds.

—Country produce, such as chickens, eggs and butter, is getting within reach of poor people since the Christmas holidays, the prices of such articles being from one-third to one-half less.

—The United States Court is engaged on the criminal docket. The trial of Jack Hall, who it will be remembered was granted a new trial at the last term of the Court, commenced on Monday and is still pending.

—A substantial brick store will at once be erected on Mrs. Zehnder's lot on State street, to take the place of the frame building recently destroyed by fire. The workmen are already clearing the way for the foundations.

—Our lovers of the art dramatic have had quite a number of opportunities this season for enjoyment. The Opera House has had a steady run of good actors and fair audiences. Mr. W. E. Cagle is the popular manager.

—The lecture of Rev. Dr. Galloway, on "Illustrious Dunces," at the Christian church, Friday night, was witty, eloquent and highly instructive, and what was better, it produced a handsome fund for the new church edifice.

—The patrons of Dr. R. J. Miller will be glad to learn that he is at his old stand above Senter's, provided with new instruments for serving them. He is a superior dentist as will be avouched by all for whom he has operated.

—Sheriff McNulty, of Pike county, called at THE CLARION office a few days since. We regret to find him unable to talk above a whisper, caused by a recent case of congestion of one lung. We hope that he will soon be entirely recovered.

—We regret to learn that typhoid fever has been prevailing in the Protestant Orphan Asylum, at Natchez—not a dangerous type, however. There were twelve cases up to the 23d, the date of a letter from one of the lady managers to this office.

—Col. A. M. Hardin, formerly Superintendent of the Penitentiary, now of the firm of A. M. Hardin & Co., commission merchants, St. Louis, has been in the city for several days, combining business with the pleasure of meeting his many old friends.

—Among the numerous friends who have favored us with calls since our last, we are pleased to note Hon. Robert Powell, of Canton, Dr. A. G. McLaurin, of Smith, Messrs. McLaurin of the Brandon bar, Capt. Jas. Kincannon, of Verona, Judge Gowan, of the Westville, New, Hon. W. S. Bailey, of Tallahatche, Col. W. J. Crisler, of Hinds, and Capt. B. F. Jones, of Deauregard.

—Mr. R. L. Bennett, late the efficient postmaster at Madison, was in the city last week and did not look at all cast down, nor repentant on account of his deprecation by the civil service reform administration for exercising his right to vote as he pleased in the election of Congressmen.

—The Jackson Fire Department is admirably officered for the ensuing year. At the annual meeting, held last night, the following were chosen: E. L. Saunders, Chief Engineer; E. H. Reber, First Assistant Engineer; C. Cummings, Second Assistant Engineer; J. Braun, Secretary; W. S. Hamilton, Treasurer.

—We sent out 485 copies of THE CLARION last week with a cross-mark on the margin, indicating time out. Scores have since renewed for 1883, and we hope all will be reinstated on our list. One subscriber says he paid up what he owed and renewed, "to keep from being dunned." We wish all newspaper subscribers were as impressive.

—The large attendance at the last meeting of the Capital Literary Club evidenced an increasing interest in its exercises. The Club is under obligations to Judge and Mrs. Chalmers, and their pleasant household for a delightful evening. The next meeting will be held to-morrow, Thursday night, at Col. W. L. Nugent's. Exercises to begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

—The marriage of Mr. CHARLES S. BROWN and Miss MATTIE VANHOOK took place at the Presbyterian church on Thursday night last. The Rev. Dr. Galloway officiated, and a very large company of friends and well-wishers were present to witness the interesting ceremonies. The happy couple departed on first train for McComb City, where Mr. Brown is engaged in business. We learn that the bride was remembered by many of her friends in the way of elegant and substantial presents.

—MR. HARVEY M. GUNNING, of New Orleans, and Miss MATTIE D. TERRETT, daughter of Col. W. H. Terrett, were married at the Christian chapel last night. Rev. Dr. Galloway united the happy couple. After the ceremonies at the church, there was quite a large gathering of friends at the residence of the bride's parents, where a sumptuous wedding feast was spread. Mr. Gunning is an accomplished member of the "art preservative," and of course his typographic friends were present in full force last night. He and his beautiful bride left for the Crescent City this morning.

—Dr. M. W. Boyd, a favorite physician of this city, in ante bellum times, is on a visit to his old home here, where he has a host of friends who would be glad to have him make this his permanent abiding place. The doctor was surgeon of the First Mississippi Light Artillery Regiment, was captured just before the close of the siege of Vicksburg, while on duty at his hospital near Snyder's Bluff, and threatened with death, on a charge that he sent diagrams of the fortifications to Gen. Johnston. On his release, he returned to Jackson, and after making a survey of the unpromising situation of affairs generally, he went to Brazil, where he has since been a faithful subject of Dom Pedro. He is recently from Kentucky.

HARVEY—NOLAND—On the 17th of January, 1883, in St. Paul's Church, Woodville, Miss., by the Rev. Howell Logan, assisted by the Rev. J. W. Turner, W. H. Harvey, of New Orleans, La., to Maud Noland, daughter of Capt. T. V. Noland, of Woodville, Miss. No cards.

Death of Dr. John D. McConnell.

The sudden death of Dr. John D. McConnell of Brownsville, Hinds county, on Saturday the 27th inst., was an appalling sorrow to his family, as well as a calamity to the community in which he had so long lived a useful and respected member. He came to Mississippi from Indiana, and settled in Carroll county to teach a school jointly with his first wife in 1847 when a very young man. Two years thereafter, he was the principal of a large school in Yazoo City, where he remained several years, and then removed to Vicksburg and became editor of the Sentinel. In this position he distinguished himself as a forcible and brilliant journalist. At this time, the devoted wife who had shared his toils, died. Meantime he studied medicine, prepared himself for his practice, and for that purpose settled in Raymond, Hinds county. During his residence there, he again married a most estimable lady, and removed to Brownsville, where he lived about twenty-five years—she however, preceded him to the grave several years. His practice was extensive and successful. He accumulated a fine estate, and was in the enjoyment of a charming home when summoned away from the scenes of earth. He who by his skill had so often been the blessed instrument under Providence of snatching so many lives from the grasp of the grim monster, became himself its victim.

Dr. McConnell was a man of warm impulses and strong convictions, which he always expressed and acted upon without fear. He was a generous foe and a loving friend. That his friendship was lasting, the writer of this feeble tribute, whose intimate acquaintance with him covered a period of thirty-four years, can attest. We cannot speak in fitting words of his good and generous qualities. We dare not attempt it; but our loss is not comparable to the bereavement of the home that has been saddened forever by his sudden and untimely death.

The funeral of Dr. W. L. Hemphill, who died at Edwards, December 21, 1882, will be preached at Byram, on the second Sabbath in February, at 11 A. M. by Elder J. R. Farish of Magnolia.

"Do Not Fear, You Carry Caesar," Said that illustrious emperor to his boatman, in the storm. And we can say to the thousands who are compelled to admit sorrowfully that they have some form of kidney disease. Do not fear; there is a Caesar among kidney medicines. It is Hunt's Remedy, and it will cure you. Before its commanding power, kidney and liver ailments flee as conquered enemies. Its cures are marvellous; its sway unquestioned. It reaches cases that are given up and hopeless. To all who are afflicted in stomach, bladder, kidneys or liver, we come with the encouraging cry, "Do not fear!" there is sure relief in Hunt's Remedy.

DEBILITATED persons, and sufferers from wasting diseases such as consumption, scrofula, kidney affections, will be greatly benefited by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

Fegee Oil has never failed to route out all Rheumatic pains when properly applied. Hunter and Harrington have it for sale, try a bottle and you will have reason to bless the day you read this advertisement.

Making Short Work of It.

In the siege of Troy, Apollo encouraged the Trojans to be valiant against the Greeks, by saying: "The mighty Achilles does not fight to-day." It would seem as if death had been bidding disease to make its great inroads upon men, by saying: "Hunt's Remedy is out of the market." But the Trojans found to their cost, that the mighty Achilles came to the field, slew their greatest champions, and made short work of the battle. And Hunt's Remedy, as an Achilles against kidney and liver diseases, has taken the field, and is making short work of all such ailments. Hundreds of testimonials from all quarters are coming in to the effect that this is the champion medicine. No surer was the sword of Achilles than this powerful, yet peaceful, remedy in battle form, as it wages war against dropsy, urinary and kidney complaints, and overcomes. It is wise to call in its aid.

Hunter and Harrington are the manufacturers agents for the sale of Fegee Oil, the great foe to Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

Why don't you use Fegee Oil?
Fegee Oil is the mortal foe to Rheumatism and Neuralgia; it will also immediately relieve the pain arising from burns, scalds, etc. Get one bottle from Hunter and Harrington and you will be convinced that what we say is true.

Use Fegee Oil for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and pains of all kinds. Try it once.

All persons who are afflicted with Rheumatism and Neuralgia are advised to use Fegee Oil. Hunter & Harrington, manufacturers agents.

A CARD.

JACKSON, MISS., Jan. 30, 1882.

To the Voters of the 9th Judicial District:

I take this means of announcing myself as a candidate for District Attorney in the 9th Judicial District in the State, and I do this not at the "solicitation of many friends" and "numerous voters," but simply of my own motion, as an applicant for this non-political and important position.

Having spent the greater part of my early youth and manhood in Rankin and Hinds counties, and having served the people in the various capacities of Legislator, Chancellor and Assistant United States Attorney, and my official actions under all circumstances, being open to scrutiny, they best know whether I would bring capacity and conscience to the duties of the office I seek. They best know if fear or favor, friendship or malice would influence me in dealing with society, discharging my duties faithfully and protecting the public from the presence of vice and crime. Believing this the true issue, and the people the true court to try it, I bring my cause before them for decision.

History of the "Burt Rifles," 18th Mississippi Regiment from its Organization to April 1st, 1865.

COMPILED FROM OFFICIAL RECORDS, BY J. L. POWER (From Tri-Weekly Mississippi, May 30, 1865.)

Our esteemed friend, Col. J. L. Power, has kindly furnished us with an interesting history of the Burt Rifles, which may be found to-day in issue. This company was composed of the first-class young men of this city and vicinity, and its history will be read with avidity.

The Burt Rifles were organized at Jackson, Miss., and mustered into the State service by Col. Wm. H. Brown, Adjutant General of the State, on the 22d day of April, 1861. On the 24th of that month, the company took the cars at Jackson for Corinth, where it arrived on the 26th. Here it was placed in the 18th regiment, at the organization of which Capt. Burt was selected Colonel.

The company accompanied the regiment to Virginia, and participated with it in all its battles, (nineteen in number) skirmishes and marches, and contributed its full share to the brilliant reputation the regiment won for itself. On the promotion of Capt. Burt, June 7th, 1861, the company was transferred to the 1st Mississippi, and continued its full share to the brilliant reputation the regiment won for itself. On the promotion of Capt. Burt, June 7th, 1861, the company was transferred to the 1st Mississippi, and continued its full share to the brilliant reputation the regiment won for itself.
